10th Anniversary
Mansfield Reads!
An Evening with
Glenn Dromgoole
Friday, April 19th

Mansfield Reads! is going to the dogs! And cats! In honor of our tenth anniversary, we've selected two great titles this year: Glenn Dromgoole's What Dogs Teach Us... and What Cats Teach Us... Meet the author, enjoy some hors d'oeuvres, and get your books signed on Friday, April 19th at 6pm. The event is free to the public, but you must RSVP on the website or by phone at 817-453-2273. Space is limited!

Mansfield Reads! is held every April in conjunction with National Library Week. Everyone in town is encouraged to read and discuss our chosen book. This year, in addition to the author event, we're also hosting a pet-friendly expo on Saturday, April 13th from 11am-2pm in the Library parking lot.

The Friends are hosting a special event on Saturday, April 13th from 11am-2pm in the library parking lot this year in addition to our usual Mansfield Reads! festivities.

It's an open-air expo for animal lovers where you can meet local veterinarians, adopt a pet from Mansfield Animal Care and Control, learn about therapy dogs, meet pet groomers, learn animal safety, and get your pet's photo taken, all free of charge!

So come out and support the Friends, the library, and literacy with your best little buddy!

WANTED: CUTE PET PHOTOS

Is one of your favorite past times taking photos of your animal companions? At home? At the park? During the holidays? Before you get out of bed in the morning? We want to see these photos! Post your favorite pet picture on our Facebook page, and we'll hang it up in the library! Then come check it out at our Evening with the Author event April 19 at 6pm!
